

Providing news and information from around the church.

Support UM News at General Conference

Dear Friend,

At United Methodist News, we have been dedicated to providing fair, faithful and trusted reporting on the news and events shaping The United Methodist Church for almost 85 years. United Methodists and individuals outside the denomination alike rely on UM News to tell the authentic story of the church.

With General Conference just around the corner, our mission to deliver unbiased, clear and transparent news is more important than ever.

Decisions made at this time will impact the future of our denomination. The world will be listening to hear what The United Methodist Church has to say. This news must be shared.

UM News reporters will be at this important gathering, working around the clock to capture major developments and ensure every congregation, clergy person and lay person remains connected and informed. This vital access to information will help our denomination embrace the future with confidence, hope and preparedness.

Unfortunately, a shrinking church budget has created challenges that could impact how much information we can gather and how quickly we can share it. It's critical that the quality of reporting is maintained without compromising UM News' commitment to excellence.

We count on your support to make it happen. The difference you make by taking just a few moments to donate now is very real.

You can help guarantee that UM News has the resources necessary to deliver unparalleled factual reporting from General Conference as well as reliable information on The United Methodist Church and our ministry in and to the world.
